

Contents

Preface	VII
1. Introduction	1
2. New evidence for the veneration of Ra.....	7
2.1. The inscription on volcanic ash bowl BM EA 35556	7
2.2. Weneg	13
2.3. Chronology of the Second Dynasty	15
2.3.1. The later tradition.....	15
2.3.2. Contemporary evidence	16
2.4. Archaeological and inscriptional evidence for Horus Ra-neb/ nsw-bit nb.ti Weneg	18
2.4.1. Seal impressions	18
2.4.2. Inscribed stone vessels	21
2.4.3. Stela	27
2.4.4. Rock inscription	27
2.4.5. Steatite plaque	27
3. Old evidence for the veneration of Ra	29
3.1. Personal names including the element Ra	29
3.1.1. The names	29
3.1.2. Ra and the scribes	34
3.1.3. Different writings of Ra	42
3.2. Seth-Ra Per-ibsen	42
3.3. Possible designations for Ra	44
3.3.1. “God”	44
3.3.2. nbw.i “The Golden One”	44
3.3.3. Other possible designations	47
3.4. m3-wr	49
3.5. Maat	51
3.6. šk.t rꜥw on Second Dynasty stone vessels	54
3.7. Evidence for the early veneration of Ra in later periods	55
3.7.1. Royal Annals	55
3.7.2. King lists	57
3.7.3. Stamped brick	59
4. Second Dynasty: a new paradigm of the Egyptian state	61
List of Figures	65
List of Plates	66
Bibliography	67
Indices	79